The Business Office at Ferris State University sets up a billing account for each enrolled student. Your billing account will include any charges that are payable to FSU, such as tuition, fees, software, etc.

Financial aid disburses, or pays, directly to your billing account on or around the 14th day of each semester or within a few days of the completion of all of your outstanding requirements.

Since summer semester is separated into 2 segments, your financial aid may apply at different times throughout the summer.

If your financial aid is not enough to cover all of your charges, you will be billed for the difference.

If you have excess financial aid then you will receive a refund for the difference.

To receive the excess aid, you must set up a direct deposit account through MyFSU so that excess aid will be refunded directly into your bank account on specific refund dates each semester. If the financial aid refund is coming from a Parent PLUS loan, the refund check will be mailed to the parent’s address, if the parent did not request that the refund be given to the student directly. The Business Office will not mail allow you or your parent to pick up a refund check under any circumstance.
