To get to where you are today, you’ve had to grow. Learn. Adapt. But in the rapidly shifting landscape of the modern world, continuous evolution isn’t simply encouraged; it’s demanded. And the key to evolving your personal and profession skill-sets lies in your creativity.

With ProFolio, Kendall College of Art and Design of Ferris State University (KCAD) taps into your natural urge to create while broadening your perspective and deepening your connection to the people and places that surround you. Learn how you can take inspiration from nature to explore new ways of collaborating with others and solving complex problems in our new Biomimicry and Design Thinking course. Or, explore a new technology or artistic process—from AutoCAD and Adobe Creative Suite to landscape painting and glass blowing—to keep yourself technically proficient, creatively flexible, and endlessly curious.

Because the most important knowledge isn’t what’s already inside you, but what’s all around you waiting to be discovered.

NEW! BIOMIMICRY & DESIGN THINKING
Session I: 15 WK P512-B
March 7, 14, 21, 28, April 11, 18
No class April 4, Spring Break
Tuition: $215, supply fee: $25
Supplies will be provided.

Through a series of explorations of the natural world you will engage in design thinking to propose a biomimetic solution to a current problem. You will be using a variety of media to explore natural systems and apply that knowledge to a design problem. Through this course you will learn to better recognize, observe, and think creatively about processes and systems in nature. What you learn will inform your art or design work. You will shift to see nature not as something to exploit, but as a teacher and model.

You will discuss a range of interactive projects, public interventions and the practices of relational aesthetics or social practice art. You will identify an issue to address as a group, and design an experimental project that will incorporate the campus community. Documentation will be archived online and you will discuss how ephemeral artworks can be preserved.

Instructor: Eliza Fernand

After studying sculpture and photography at Interlochen Center for the Arts and receiving a BFA from Pacific Northwest College of Art, Eliza Fernand has been a resident artist throughout the United States and in Normandy and Quebec. She has received multiple grants, and her traveling project Quilt Stories performed in 25 cities across the country.

Fernand has taught youth art classes, and has been a guest lecturer. She has exhibited her work nationally, most notably at Kathryn Markel Fine Arts and Roulette Intermedium in New York, 85 GRAND, Chicago, and HATCH Gallery, Oakland CA. She co-founded Shared Space Studio in West Michigan. She specializes in reusing discarded materials for art, empowering communities through self-sustaining skills, and creating socially engaged projects.
