Art in the Digital Age!
INTRODUCTION

Letter from the Director

Our non-credit course offerings have changed so much over the past ten years, due in part to an influx of new digital methods and tools. This brochure showcases some of the many ways that digital processes can be incorporated into art. Kendall, with its state-of-the-art computer labs, is the perfect place to experience instruction in digital media while at the same time learning about art.

For example, on Saturday, September 17, award-winning writer John Guertin, will present Writing for Digital Media and Film. C.J. VanDuff-Zondervan and I will be teaching Etsy 101 on Saturday October 8, and on Saturdays November 5 and 12. Elizabeth Gaines Zoutendyk will be sharing her knowledge of Laser Cutting for Jewelers and Sculptors.

We have a full range of non-credit digital classes for adults, as well as classes in painting, drawing, photography, interiors, fashion, metals and more. Classes for adults meet evenings and weekends.

Classes for youth ages 6–17 meet Saturdays and include: Look and See Poetry, Google Zoo, Mad Science Art, Portrait Detectives, Drawing Fashions for Video and Animation, Login to Art, My Meme, and much more!

Sincerely,

Brenda Sipe

You can learn to draw! By giving access to the part of your mind that works in a style conducive to creative, intuitive thought, you will learn a fundamental skill of visual art: how to put down on paper what you see in front of your eyes. In learning how to draw, you will learn an entirely new way to see, which can impact your creativity in other areas of your life. This class is based on the teaching in the book Drawing on the Right Side of the Brain by Betty Edwards.
